Ideal client blueprint

Evaluate each of the three client categories to align with your strategic direction and identify your ideal client profile. Once you're clear on your bullseye ideal client, shape your offering to drive capacity and growth.

|                      |  | Client categories |           |            |
|----------------------|--|-------------------|-----------|------------|
| Client attribute     | Detail   | Bullseye          | Secondary | Non-client |
| Commerciality        | Revenue or proxy, e.g. totalfees, FUA, strategic importanceand/or spheres of influence,sufficient market size and/ordifferentiation strength |                   |           |            |
| Demographics         | Age, geography, profession, income, assets etc.  |                   |           |            |
| Psychographics       | Delegator vs validator,relationship vs transactional,strategic vs investment, valuesand cultural fit etc.  |                   |           |            |
| Needs and complexity | Services, assets, family and estates, communication channels, meeting formats, education, etc.   |                   |           |            |

Talk to us today - understand how Macquarie can help your business thrive in a changing environment, click here to request a call.